BEFORE YOU RAISE THE BUDGET

4 checks before you add a dollar to PPC.

More budget only helps if the page can take the sale and the click can make money.

With real examples from an account I took over before Prime Big Deal Days.

Swipe →

CHECK 1

Do you hold the Featured Offer?

If another seller's offer is featured, your Sponsored Products ads can stop showing, and the traffic you paid for can buy from them.

Where: Business Reports → Featured Offer %

REAL CASE

An unauthorised seller was sitting on the brand's best seller. I filed a Brand Registry complaint backed by a test buy.

CHECK 2

Is the page converting?

Ads multiply what the page already does. A weak page with more budget just loses faster.

Where: Business Reports → Unit Session Percentage

REAL CASE

The rating fell from 4.2 to 3.5 in about 15 days and Amazon suppressed the deal. I fixed the rating first. It was back to 4.0 before the event.

CHECK 3

Are you paying for the right searches?

More budget on the wrong search terms buys more of the wrong clicks.

Where: Search Term Report, last 30-60 days

REAL CASE

About $900 a month went to wrong-language, wrong-intent and raw-ingredient searches. Meanwhile a capped portfolio blocked the best generic campaign.

CHECK 4

Do you know your break-even ACOS?

Without it, you can't tell if more spend is growth or loss.

EXAMPLE (ILLUSTRATIVE NUMBERS)

Selling price	$40
Product + Amazon fees + shipping	- $26
Profit before ads	$14
Break-even ACOS = 14 ÷ 40	35%

Above 35% this sale loses money. Below it, there is room to scale.

SAVE THIS

If one fails, fix it before the budget.

CHECK	IF IT FAILS
1 · Featured Offer %	Fix price, delivery, stock or the unauthorised seller
2 · Conversion rate	Fix the page, rating and offer first
3 · Search terms	Cut waste, move money to what converts
4 · Break-even ACOS	Work it out per product before scaling

BUDGET IS NOT THE FIRST LEVER

None of these are bid problems.

TELL ME

Which of the 4 do you check first?

Mudassir Fayyaz
Amazon Growth Strategist

♻️ Repost for a seller planning Q4 budgets